

Press Release

Sword CTSpace to attend Digital Plant Conference 2010

Houston, Texas, USA – February 22, 2010 – Sword CTSpace, a global provider of document management and collaboration workflow applications for the construction and engineering industries, will be attending the Digital Plant Conference 2010, “The Plant Asset Lifecycle Event,” on March 1-3 at the Hilton Americas in Houston.

Sword CTSpace Global Products Director Tim Fleet, Director of Product Demonstrations Ian Soler, Sword CTSpace Operating Director from Frankfurt Gert-Jan de Kieviet and Global Marketing Director from Paris Lydie Francart will all be on hand to exhibit Sword CTSpace products and services and answer attendees’ questions. They will be exhibiting Sword CTSpace’s dual product lineup of FusionEnterprise, a suite of on-premise content management solutions, and the state-of-the-art Cloud-based engineering collaboration solution FusionLive, launched just after the conference in early March.

FusionLive stands to revolutionize the content management industry with its combination of easy and quick deployability, advanced yet simple-to-use interface, absolute data security, and an array of outstanding document management, business process management, and program management and project collaboration features. This solution is the end result of 30 years construction domain expertise and 13 years experience designing web applications and incorporating customer feedback by Sword CTSpace’s unparalleled technical team. When integrated with FusionEnterprise, Sword CTSpace’s on-premise document management and project collaboration suite, FusionLive provides an integrated, best practices environment that supports a project’s entire lifecycle: from design, through construction, and into operations and maintenance.

Representatives from Sword CTSpace will also be performing one-on-one interviews with important industry figures at Digital Plant, the videos of which can be viewed afterwards on Sword CTSpace’s Youtube page at <http://www.youtube.com/user/swordctspace>. Attendees that would like to contribute their valuable insight and be interviewed can contact Mike Schaefer at 214-669-0795 or can simply approach a Sword CTSpace representative at the conference. The interviews will focus on trends and challenges in the plant lifecycle-related industries. Sword CTSpace seeks to involve as many major industry figures as possible in its campaign to promote industry dialogue, as Sword CTSpace’s leadership in this area and its general online presence only continues to grow.

When: March 1-3, 2010

Where: Hilton Americas Houston, TX
